MINING INSTITUTE TO MEET IN CALGARY

The Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy will hold its twenty-first annual western meeting in Calgary August 30th next.

The Dominion government will be represented by officers of the department of mines and resources; the Alberta government by Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, and the institution in England by Dr. J. A. L. Henderson, of London. Mr. B. L. Thorne, president of the institute, will direct the proceedings.

Very appropriately, major attention will be given to technology, developments and practice in the gas and oil fields of the province, and the convention will spend an entire day in Turner Valley, the scene of important developments in recent months.

Alberta's northern hinterland has also been discussed, and consideration given to transportation and the mineral industry in that rapidly developing area.

The serious proceedings will alternate with social functions, and the delegates will be able to choose between side trips arranged to Banff, the Drumheller district and the Crows' Nest Pass.

The Hotel Palliser will be convention headquarters.

TOM BECK HONORED AT FERNIE

On the occasion of his seventieth birthday, Thomas Beck was honored recently by members of the Fernie Rotary Club, when he was presented with a beautiful floor lamp and a birthday cake. In thanking Rotary for their kindness, Mr. Beck repeated the lines of the late Walt Mason:

"My best was but a trifling thing; I must admit, now that I'm old; I never could rear up and swing the harp that Milton used to hold; it wasn't in my soul to sing such music as from Byron rolled. But I have toiled away with zest, my strains the highest that I knew, and now the sun is in the west and skies grow dark that late were blue, I know that I have done my best, and more than that no man can do."

Mrs. Beck was also the guest of the Rotary Club on Monday. Jack Riewers brought her and this was another big surprise to the unsuspecting Tom.

Reg. Smith, of Calgary, claims to be the only man in Alberta's history to have completely licked two women singlehanded in one battle.

THE CASTLE RIVER CLUB'S ANNUAL STAMPEDE

"The best stampede yet, second to none, as good bucking horses as we saw in Calgary." Such were the remarks heard all over the grounds at the Castle River Club's annual stampede on Wednesday of last week.

It was a lovely day, and the usual big crowd thronged the slope or watched from cars on the bank. One wonders where they all come from, as hundreds of Pass people were unable to attend, due to the mines working that day. Foot races started promptly at 1, then the grand parade at 1:30, led by twelve mounted Indians, competing for prize for best dressed Indian and Squaw couple—and weren't they dressed up! Cowboys and cowgirls also competed for prizes in the parade, as well as juvenile novelty characters. One of the latter was the best hit of the day, little seven-year-old Billy Vroom on a goat. He impersonated an old white-whiskered prospector leading another goat packed with camp outfit, frying pan, etc.

There were bairies to quicken the pulses of people blessed with Scotch blood in their veins, Highland fling contest, singing, yodelling and mandolin playing; clowns, tug-o-war, in which the husky farmer boys pulled the Indians; softball match and lots of cool soft drinks at the ice cream booths. Rodeo and horse races started at 2 o'clock, and kept going without a stop till after 6. The new corral and chutes proved their value. There were no annoying waits between the rides. Fifty of the Indians' best bucking broncs had been contracted for, and didn't they buck. There were several local outlaws as well; one belonging to Buster Connolly took the prize. The dance in the open-air pavilion at night was another success. The floor space was taxed to capacity, and the Band-Its orchestra gave great satisfaction.

Prize winners were as follows:

Bucking bareback—Jim Robinson, first; W. Forsyth, second; Dick Blackmore, third.
Steer riding—Harold Lee, first; Clark Lund, second; J. Robinson, third.

Calf roping—Ed. Ivins, first, time 19 1-5 seconds; B. Lund, second; Tom Duce and Toots Burton, tied for third.
Wild horse race—Ed. Ivins, first; J. Robinson, second; Roy Baird, third.
Wild cow milking—E. Ivins, first; D. Blackmore, second; Clark Lund, third.

Horse Races: Mile open—H. Pelletier, first; J. McLaughlin, second; Doris McLaughlin, third.
Five-eighths mile open—Cecil Talton, first; H. Pelletier, second; Judge McLaughlin, third.
Half-mile Indian—George Longtime Squirrel, first; Tom Three Persons, second.
Mile Indian—George Longtime Squirrel, first; Tom Three Persons, second.

Half-mile pony open—Judge McLaughlin, first; H. Pelletier, second; Dick Andrews, third.
Schoolboys' pony race—Donny Vroom, first; Alex. Yagou, second; Ralph Michalsky, third.

Relay race (3 horses)—E. Small Face, first; J. Wolfalt, second.

Winners of foot races have not been ascertained.

The new corral, chutes, fence, etc., cost over $400, so the committee are very appreciative and grateful for the donations of prizes by Blairmore business men, and George Kellogg, of Coleman, who paid the piper and donated dance prize. Pete Zor-

Economic Colonization

It must come somewhat as a surprise to prairie farmers and Western Canadians generally, who have felt and still are feeling the impact of an economic and agricultural depression of great severity, to find Eastern publications persistently harping upon the necessity of opening the gates of this country to more agriculturists as a condition precedent to freer migration from European countries.

There can be no gainsaying of the argument of the protagonists of colonization that this country needs a greater population to help carry the burden of the cost of transportation and other facilities with which the wide-open but sparsely settled spaces of the west have been provided at considerable expense, but when it is suggested that the type of settler most needed is farmer, whether experienced or otherwise, there should not be any room for a difference of opinion.

The answer, so far as the west is concerned, must necessarily be in the negative, as long as the bulk of agricultural production in this country consists of commodities which must be sold in world markets at prices which are set by world competition.

Even in countries, or sections of this country, where agriculture is highly diversified, expert economists have found that 15 per cent. of the population can easily supply the food requirements of the entire country. How, then, is the problem of producing at a margin of profit going to be solved in a country in which more than 50 per cent. of the population is engaged in agriculture and is forced to sell the bulk of its production with other producing countries, by bringing in more agriculturists?

All Occupied Now

Practically all of the arable land in Western Canada and some land which is not productive is now under tillage and there is even some suggestion on the part of economists that some of this acreage will have to be curtailed, if the farmers already on the land are to be able to continue to make a living.

Those who are farming marginal lands cannot hope to make a profit if the bulk of their produce has to be sold in world competitive markets and, if the economists are to be believed, those who are farming the most productive land must scale their costs down to a low figure if they are to make their venture profitable, and that means power farming on considerable scale, which, in turn, means a comparatively sparse rural population over a wide stretch of country, just so long as the bulk of production cannot be disposed of in local markets.

What, then, is to become of the immigrant agriculturist? Is he to be expected to wrest a living out of marginal lands which others have found unprofitable, or is he to occupy good, productive land which must be equipped with expensive machinery for large scale farming, involving displacement of the present owners or occupants? If the latter, what becomes of the present owners or occupants, and to what extent does the country benefit by the advent of the new farmer?

When facts and the conditions under which agriculture has to be operated in the Canadian west to be successful are given their full weight, it is difficult to see how anyone can, at the present time, advocate an influx of more agriculturists from other countries.

The Required Type

As stated at the outset, more population is required to help carry the burden of taxation which has been found necessary to maintain the country's governmental operations and to finance the debt which has been incurred to provide the people with facilities and services.

But the type of settler needed is one who will be a consumer and not a producer of agricultural commodities, thus stimulating the domestic market and enabling established farmers to dispose of a larger percentage of their commodities at home and a smaller proportion abroad.

The new settler, to fit into the needs of the country, must also be a producer, but not a producer of agricultural commodities. Not only must he be a producer, but he must be a skilled worker. There are now in Canada far too many unskilled immigrants, and the country is in need of skilled workers.

One has only to scan the relief lists in the cities to secure the evidence. If immigration is to be allowed, the new settlers should be skilled workers versed in the technical arts of converting some of the natural resources of the country into commercially useful commodities. Only immigrants of this type, under existing conditions, can be expected to be of economic value, even in the east, and the country needs them. They alone, are in a position to assist the country towards the goal of a better balanced economy.

Youth Training Plan

Establishing Young Men in Courses Connected With Aviation

Several provinces now have agreements with the Dominion in connection with the youth training plan, and schedules of projects are being drafted. Attention is being given to establishing courses for young men in trades associated with aviation.

Some months ago Hon. J. A. MacKenzie, defence minister, and Hon. Norman Rogers, labor minister, discussed the possibilities of training youths as air mechanics. The figure initially mentioned was 2,000.

The hope was entertained that over the three-year period of the plan a large proportion of the men might embrace the opportunity to engage with the R.C.A.F., while others would be absorbed by the civil aviation companies and the aircraft manufacturing industry generally.

Canada's aircraft industry flourishes in four provinces—Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia. At the same time prospects are for substantial increase in personnel of the R.C.A.F. in the next three years.

Competitive Armaments

Civilization Cannot Stand Present Killing Pace Much Longer

We talk of another Great War, destroying civilization. But how long can civilization sustain the present killing pace in competitive armaments? Business—which is the lifeblood of a civilized people—stands existing on the brink of adventure, hardly daring to wet its toes in the waters of expansion and profit, lest war come down like night and put an end to both expansion and profit.

Thus it is not only that the tag-gatherer takes the winnings but that the ominous trend of approaching fate frightens the players away.

It would seem as if there ought to be, enough sense and clear-sighted people alive to combine to put an end to this nightmare. If the nations which have the intelligence to see that this mad race toward disaster cannot go on forever would pool their superior strength, they could set up court in the midst of international anarchy and compel all litigants who think they have grievances to submit their cases for settlement. There is not a village in Canada or the United States where the citizens would permit such a situation to exist overnight.

Is there not as much sense in the still civilized sections of humanity as there is in any typical Canadian village?—Montreal Star.

Sounds Like Good Advice

Young Men Should Be Active In Some Political Party

Robert Bond, age 89, told the Tory convention in West Ottawa that he had been fighting the battle of his party since he was 14. His advice to young men was to join a party and thus help fellow-Canadians to advance the good of their country.

There are people who never go to church who do, and fault with all churches. They assume a privilege to which they have no claim or right. And it is the same with the indifferent public who condemn both political parties, and only take a negative interest in matters of public concern.—St. Catharines Standard.

Canadian Timber

British Government Decides That Canada Best Source Of Lumber In War Time

The British government has decided that Canada is the best source of supply for lumber coal mine props in war time.

Geoffrey Lloyd, secretary for mines, announced a comprehensive scheme for the control of prices and supplies of coal and electricity in war time which could be put into immediate operation.

At present Britain spends $3,500,000 ($10,380,000) annually for imported pit props, mostly from Scandinavian and Baltic countries. The government plan calls for Canada to get the bulk of this trade in war time.

It is understood comprehensive plans already have been made by colliery companies and timber importers.

The wartime control scheme will have the effect of maintaining production of coal at the level necessary for the industrial effort of the nation. Prices will be set and supplies distributed and rationed with priority for essential industries.

Supplies of coal, gas and electricity will be rationed to domestic users through a system of government-appointed officers. Export of coal will be prohibited except by government licence. Every effort will be made to limit exports to allied countries.

Canadian Gold Mines

Production Has Increased Enormously During The Past 20 Years

According to a survey made at Toronto, Canadian gold mines have created production enormously in the last 20 years. About 1920 the gold output of Canada was nine per cent. of that of South Africa.

Ten years ago it was equal to 18 per cent. and in 1938 nearly 30 per cent.

Of the 55 gold mines in the world that produce more than 100,000 ounces annually, 10 are in Canada. These are Hollinger, Lake Shore, Noranda, McIntyre, Wright-Harvey, Dome, Lamaque, Hudson Bay, Tack-Hughes and Bralorne.

It was noteworthy that 4½ of the 55 largest gold mines are under British control, divided as follows: South Africa, 32; Canada, 10; Gold Coast, 2; Australia, 1; Rhodesia, 1. Largest producer is Crown Mines in the Transvaal—Canadian Press.

Taking Home The Proof

American Fishermen Would Need Story To Match Picture

There would be some tall fish stories told when a couple of American tourists returned home after their cruise in Canadian waters. A butcher at Midland, Ont., bought two lake trout, one weighing 43 pounds and the other 34 pounds, from an Indian fisherman.

The tourists spied the whoopers in the butcher shop window and an idea developed. They borrowed the fish and two fishing rods from a sports shop across the street and then had their pictures taken with the fish, but not in front of the butcher shop. The pair spent the rest of the day mapping out their stories to tell evening friends back home about the "big fellows that didn't get away."

Stays To The Finish

When John Bull Starts Anything He Always Sees It Through

It's been known for a long time that when old John Bull finally gets going he's pretty much of a terror. The last to start fighting, he's invariably the last to quit.

Latest demonstration of this characteristic was given the British House by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon. Sir John told the House that Britain's expenditure on armaments this year would reach the astonishing figure of $3,410,000,000.

That should be an eye-opener for even Herr Hitler.

In Germany they've been picturing Mr. Chamberlain as an elderly, benevolent and somewhat bewildered gentleman, carrying an umbrella. But the elderly benevolent gentleman, betrayed, has turned to forging his umbrella into the world's mightiest weapon.

Britain to-day is turning out as many airplanes as Germany; will soon be turning out more than Germany; and has the mightiest fleet in battle array that history has seen upon the seas. The British, in fact (to quote the words spoken Thursday by the new Inspector General of their home forces), have become "fed up" with the ruddy dictators' have begun to talk rough and act tough on their own.

And Britain has more than airships and battle fleets and guns. Sir John Simon showed, she will spend altogether some $7,000,000,000—almost equal to the total of all Canada's debts, national, provincial and municipal.

They are a tremendous people, these quiet-spoken inhabitants of the British Isles. Just now, in what they are doing, they are the world's best insurance policy against the designs and pretensions of international bullies and tyrants.—From the Ottawa Journal.

In The Far East

Some Interesting Information Is Contained In New Book

Neal O'Hara tells us in the New York Post that from John Gunther's "Inside Asia", you learn that the Japanese Prime Minister's salary is $2,592 a year; a belch following a meal in Nippon is a compliment; an average of 20,000 persons are picked up from the streets of Shanghai each year, dead of starvation, yet in the same city one may dine at a restaurant where a dinner costs $600, that American cigarettes sell at a lower price in India than in the United States.

Money In Pigs

Pigs have rooted their way into second place in Canada's agricultural exports, the value of bacon hog exports being exceeded only by wheat shipments. Last year pigs brought our farmers over $85,000,000 of which $30,000,000 came from abroad.

From a conquest without parallel in history from a victory which has lifted the spirit and cheered the souls of half mankind, from the happiest crusade the world has ever known, our King and Queen come smiling back to Homeland.

Not merely with loyal and dutiful greeting do our people receive them, and with a heightened pride and gratitude beyond all pageantry of welcome; for they have turned the eyes of a troubled world to brighter horizons, toward the vision splendid.

They have proved that true nobility of character, inborn graciousness and selfless devotion contribute more surely to the goodwill and contentment of peoples than all the armories of earth.

God grant that one day this lesson may be so learnt the wide world over that individuals and nations will come to build, here a little, there a little, on these foundations, enduring peace and happiness and freedom for all the children of men.

Estates In Sicily

Premier Mussolini Has Ten-Year Plan To Divide Large Holdings

Premier Mussolini has announced a 10-year plan to break up large landed estates in Sicily and to substitute small farms cultivated by the families living upon them.

The plan contemplates establishment of 20,000 individual farms in an area of about 1,250,000 acres at a private and public cost of $4,000,000,000 lire ($208,000,000).

The large landowners are expected to co-operate voluntarily and receive compensation for their land.

The wealthiest Sicilian landowners are the Prince of Trapani, Prince Mazzarino, and the Dukes of Trapani and Salaparuta. The island's chief products are wheat and wine.

A Timely Warning

Swimmers Should Remember Not To Go Beyond Their Depth

There has been an appalling toll of deaths by drowning already this summer and many of them are traceable to swimmers getting beyond their depth and strong swimmers losing their lives attempting rescue. It is just as enjoyable swimming in water in which one can find a footing as in too deep water and no one, unless he is a strong and expert swimmer should go beyond his depth.

BRITAIN MAY TAKE STRONGER ACTION AGAINST JAPAN

London.—Great Britain was reported to be considering stronger measures to protect her rights in the Far East unless Japan observes the spirit as well as the letter of the new Anglo-Japanese agreement.

Factors said to be influencing Britain toward a firmer attitude were:

1. Denunciation by the United States of the American-Japanese trade treaty.
2. Reported progress in the negotiations in Moscow for a British-French-Soviet Russian mutual assistance pact.
3. Continuance of the anti-British campaign in Japanese-controlled areas of China.

By the Anglo-Japanese agreement, Britain recognized that "Japanese forces in China have special requirements."

One official said the government wanted to try first to settle the difficulties by talks now going on in Tokyo.

If these talks failed, or if the Japanese continued their anti-British campaign, it was said this policy might be scrapped and the government then reconsider its plans for economic reprisals.

Hopes in government circles that a British-French-Russian pact was nearing conclusion increased the feeling that European tension would continue to ease and Britain would be freer to act in the Orient.

While the foreign office hoped that denunciation of the American-Japanese treaty was not likely to have any effect on Anglo-Japanese negotiations in Tokyo on the Tientsin dispute, Washington's action was welcomed in opposition circles which were dissatisfied with the Anglo-Japanese last agreement.

Despatches from Taku, near Tientsin, disclosed that the families of British pilots living there took refuge aboard a tugboat for two hours during an anti-British demonstration.

The pilots received threatening letters similar to those received recently by British firms in Tientsin, across the river, demanding that they leave within four weeks.

New Settlers Welcomed

Sudeten Refugees Greeted in Saskatoon On Way To New Homes.

Saskatoon.—Peace, liberty and happiness "were wished 500 Sudeten German refugees here by Chief Harry Littlejohn of the Moose Wood reserve, Dundurn, who extended a welcome from the Sioux tribesmen to the settlers, who were en route to new homes in the St. Walburg district.

The newcomers were welcomed by the young men's section of the Saskatoon board of trade and during their two-hour stay in the city they were taken to the Saskatoon industrial exhibition to see exhibits.

In front of the grandstand facing the race track, Mayor Carl Miderost extended Saskatoon's welcome and exhibition officials added their words of greeting.

Refugee Families

Party From Sudeten Area En Route To New Homes In Saskatchewan.

Winnipeg.—A party of 19 refugee families from the Sudeten area of the former Czech-Slovakia republic arrived here en route to establish new farm homes in the St. Walburg district of northwest Saskatchewan.

Word received in Edmonton from Ottawa said that Governor-General Lord Tweedsmuir has asked Alberta authorities to arrange for him to visit the Sudeten refugee camp at Tupper Creek, British Columbia. Tupper Creek is located just over the British Columbia border from Alberta.

The vice-regal party will visit the Sudeten settlers while en route by automobile between Beaver Lodge and Dawson Creek, in the Peace River country, Aug. 17.

Coastal Route Inspected.

Vancouver.—The United States section of the British Columbia-Alaska highway commission left Vancouver by plane for a four-day aerial inspection of the proposed coastal route for a highway to link Washington state with Alaska.

Trans-Atlantic Mail Service.

Montreal.—The flying-boat Cabot, inaugurating trans-Atlantic mail service of Imperial Airways, will take off Aug. 6 at 8 a.m. M.S.T. from Hythe, England, en route to Foyers, Eire. It was loaded here by a cable received by Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Bombing Outrages

One Dead And Twenty-Two Injured In Liverpool Bombs.

London.—Two shattering explosions shook two of London's busiest railroad stations, resulting in one death, injury to 22 persons and great damage, in what police said was a continuation of terrorist activities of the Irish Republican army.

Shortly after the second explosion, at Victoria Southern railway station, the House of Commons approved legislation designed to curb the I.R.A., which wants out all ties between Ireland and England. The house hurried the bill through committee and third reading without a division, and sent it to the house of lords for action.

Both explosions were in baggage checkrooms of the stations.

The first fatally injured Dr. Donald Campbell, a lecturer at Edinburgh University, who had been on a holiday with his bride of less than a year. His wife was injured and taken to hospital where she was not informed of her husband's death.

Fifteen others were hurt at King's Cross station, and a half dozen others, seriously, it was reported, at Victoria square.

The fatality was the first in London attributed to I.R.A. terrorism. One previous death occurred in a bombing at Manchester.

At Liverpool a bomb explosion wrecked the wooden swing bridge over the Leeds-Liverpool canal, and at the same time an explosion in a Liverpool letter box tore the front from a district post office. No one was injured.

Like the two bombings in London, the Liverpool explosions were attributed by police to members of the I.R.A.

Part of the wooden bridge situated at Green Lane, some five miles from here, toppled into the river, blocking the canal.

The post office explosion occurred at nearby Mount Pleasant, and was obviously caused by some sort of bomb dropped into the letter box. The post office caught fire, but the flames were extinguished shortly after.

The canal bridge explosion shattered the windows of nearby houses. Shortly after the post office explosion, there was another blast in a nearby street corner mail box.

Sub-Stratosphere Flying

British Air Ministry Planning Faster Trans-Atlantic Service.

London.—The air ministry is planning trans-Atlantic sub-stratosphere service for next year with land planes spanning the ocean at a cruising speed of more than four miles a minute.

Construction of three 32-ton machines, one of which is designed to cruise at 275 miles per hour at 25,000 feet, has been started at Rochester, Kent. The air ministry ordered the planes last year.

The society of British Aircraft Constructors, disclosing details of the new planes, said each would have a 3,000-mile range, bucking a 30-mile headwind with a payload of 7,500 pounds in addition to a seven-man crew. One third of each plane's loaded weight of 71,000 pounds will be structural weight and one-third fuel and oil. The planes will be powered by four Bristol Hercules 14-cylinder, sleeve valve engines.

The passengers—24 on day trips and 12 on night flights—will be seated in a "pressurized" fuselage and will breathe super-charged air approximating sea level density and obviating the need for individual oxygen apparatus. Engineers believe the ordinary all-metal, stressed skin construction will be suitable for the pressurized fuselage.

Spanish Fascists

Franco Warned Of Drive To Control The Government.

Paris.—Gen. Francisco Franco has been warned that Spanish Fascists will refuse to agree to restoration of the monarchy in Spain until they receive satisfaction in their drive to control the government.

The Falangist leader, Interior Secretary Suner, was said in border reports to have warned Franco that only after the question of government structure had been settled satisfactorily would the Falangists consider recalling either former King Alfonso or his son, Don Juan.

Seeking More Orders

Vancouver.—Hugh Dalton, secretary of the British Columbia division, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, is en route to England to attend conferences at which he and several other Canadian industrialists and trade experts will seek a greater share of British defence orders for the Dominion.

Prairie Route To Alaska

Request For Investigation Of Linking Alberta With Highway.

Ottawa.—The United States government will be asked to consider extending the reference of the British Columbia-Alaska highway commission to include an investigation of the feasibility of running the highway through Alberta, Prime Minister King announced.

The request for an investigation of the possibility of linking Alberta with the proposed highway came from that province.

DECIDE POOLS MUST MARKET THEIR OWN WHEAT

Ottawa.—The Canadian wheat board will not act as a central selling agency for the western wheat pools this year, Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce and chairman of the cabinet wheat committee, announced.

Under arrangements made for the marketing of the western wheat crop, the pools will probably be called on to handle most of the wheat farmers are unable to sell to the wheat board at the guaranteed initial price of 70 cents a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern at Port William. The Wheat Board Act places a limit of 5,000 bushels on the amount any farmer may deliver to the board at the guaranteed price.

The pools requested the board to market the wheat delivered to them, and the request was considered at a meeting of the wheat committee at which George McIvor, chairman of the wheat board, was present. Mr. Euler announced the decision after a cabinet meeting which followed the wheat committee meeting.

Wheat delivered to the pools will be eligible for the guaranteed initial price of 60 cents per bushel, basis No. 1 Northern, Port William, provided in the act passed last session to assist in the co-operative marketing of wheat.

The decision reached has nothing to do with the application of this legislation. It simply means that the wheat board will sell only the wheat delivered to it and the co-operative organizations must make their own arrangements for selling the wheat delivered to them.

Thus, farmers who harvest more than 5,000 bushels will be able to sell 5,000 bushels to the board on the basis of the 70-cent price and the remainder through their co-operatives on the basis of the 60-cent price.

The reason for the decision was that to agree to the pools' request would defeat the purpose of the act to assist co-operative marketing. Its purpose is to build up co-operatives and it was felt marketing through the wheat board was not co-operative marketing.

Danzig Defences

Put Police In Nazi Uniforms And Confiscate Jewish Business.

Danzig.—It was estimated unofficially that Danzig is spending $2,500 a day on defence preparations. This expenditure is in addition to an estimated $130,000 spent on primary defence measures.

Nazis admit that 4,000 to 5,000 men have been put into police or Nazi uniforms within the last few weeks. Poles put the figure at 12,000 to 15,000.

A decree was published empowering the Danzig government to confiscate Jewish business and real estate, or those concerns in which part of the capital is Jewish owned.

Ten Polish students were sentenced by the Danzig summary court to one month's imprisonment. They were arrested for illegally crossing the boundary of the free state with arms.

Trans-Canada Airways

Doubt of Schedule Between Vancouver And Montreal Is Considered.

Ottawa.—The Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of transport, announced that the doubling of the present Trans-Canada schedule between Vancouver and Montreal is under consideration. This, he said, is due to more than the anticipated use of the airways by Canadian public. It has necessitated the purchase of five new planes, bringing the total in use on the service to 15.

The minister of transport revealed that there has been a steady $10,000 a month traffic increase on the line.

CIANO CALLS SPAIN "FASCIST"

In a speech made during a visit to Barcelona, where he is shown with General Franco, left, Count Galeazzo Ciano, right, Italian Foreign Minister, was quoted as describing Spain and Italy as "two great Fascist nations." The Count is a son-in-law of Premier Benito Mussolini. Franco led his forces in victory in the recent Spanish civil war and now is virtual ruler of the country.

Low Cost Housing Scheme

Idea Placed Before Officials At Ottawa By Veterans.

Ottawa.—A low-cost housing scheme applicable to war veterans was placed before several administrative officers of government departments by a delegation of the Memorial Homes Building Society of the Imperial Veterans' Association. J. Scott, president of the organization, headed the delegation.

The veterans asked governmental assistance for construction of homes, under the aegis of the society, under a 35-year self-liquidating plan. The unit laid before the officials contemplated a six-room house built at an approximate cost of $2,000.

One aspect of the proposed plan was that labor employed should be exclusively war veteran labor, and this should be paid, where feasible, by credit to the veteran on the purchase price of a home. All veterans purchasing homes would be required to pay a fixed part of the cost of his own labor.

NO DECISION YET ON THE DATE OF GENERAL ELECTION

Ottawa.—While the European outlook may have improved somewhat, the possibility still remains that parliament may have to meet again this year to decide on questions of peace and war, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said at the close of a cabinet meeting.

For this reason he had reached no decision on the date of a general election, although a writ is being issued for a by-election in Calgary Sept. 25. That seat became vacant through the resignation of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former prime minister, and the limit of six months placed on the time a seat may remain vacant is nearly up.

"As to a general election the situation remains exactly where it was when I spoke to the press before," said Mr. King. "As long as the situation in Europe continues as it is I don't think we would be justified in dissolving parliament."

"Whether there will be an election this year or not I can not say, because I have not decided. I am keeping in mind European conditions and also the views expressed in many quarters that the government has the confidence of the people and we don't need an election."

"I am also keeping in mind what certain others are saying, that we should go to the people now and not hang on to office."

Asked if there had been any noticeable improvement recently in the European outlook, Mr. King said: "We know there has been noticeable improvement at times and afterwards it has gone the other way. I rather feel, however, that there has been an improvement and I hope it will continue."

Information reaching the government was substantially the same as that appearing in the newspapers, he added. The public was really in as good a position as he to decide whether it could be wise to dissolve parliament.

Parliament should be consulted as fully as possible on all questions relating to peace and war and the government should not commit parliament in advance to any important course of action. In this connection Mr. King said the suggestion that British children be brought of Canada in the event of war was receiving consideration.

"I don't think we should assume there is going to be war," he said, "and if we decide what we may do in one instance in the event of war we may be asked to decide what we should do on other things. In any case, I imagine parliament would have to authorize it, particularly if it involved expenditure."

"My theory is not to commit parliament too much. I have consistently fought the view that one man has any business to decide what the government will do and, in matters of peace and war, I think we should extend that position to parliament and that the government should not decide too much."

"I feel there are increasingly strong reasons why parliament should be consulted to the fullest possible extent and ignored as little as possible, particularly in these matters affecting human lives and large expenditures of money."

Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, has been appointed acting secretary of state to replace the late Hon. Fernand Rinfret, the prime minister announced following the cabinet meeting. Mr. Rinfret died suddenly July 12 while on a holiday in Los Angeles.

MEASURES TO BE TAKEN TO COPE WITH BOMBINGS

London.—Scotland Yard put Prime Minister Chamberlain and other cabinet members under special guard, held three men for examination and questioned scores in a reach for terrorists following the series of five bombings.

The explosion, in which one life was lost, occurred as the House of Commons adopted drastic measures to combat the outlawed Irish Republican army.

Extraordinary precautions were in force at all railroad stations, including two where bombings occurred. The Houses of Parliament and the British Museum were objects of closest scrutiny.

Newspapers said Scotland Yard was looking for "a man with a slouch" who was believed seen at King's Cross station just before an explosion there with one and perhaps two companions.

Mr. Chamberlain told the House of Commons that "no effort will be spared to bring to justice those who are guilty of these criminal and cowardly attacks."

Police announced that 75 sticks of gelignite—the explosive used in most of the bombings—had been found attached to a pylon carrying electricity supply lines at a town near Liverpool. An alarm clock attached to the explosive and timed to go off at 1 p.m. was discovered by a farm worker at 11 a.m.

Mr. Chamberlain did not reply in the house when Sir Thomas Moore, Conservative, asked:

"Will the prime minister now consider the application of flogging for such distinctly criminal acts?"

Authorities said the explosions were in line with an I.R.A. "plan S" which Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare described to the house as calling for wrecking of key industries, blasting of parliament buildings and pollution of water supplies.

Persons leaving packages in checkrooms were asked to submit them to inspection.

William Curtin, Irish laborer, was fined 10 shillings in police court for causing a disturbance in Hyde park.

Five men were seized for questioning in London and one in Liverpool.

At Victoria, "browns" dawned an angry count of 11 or "down with the Irish" shout them. They warned about a man who declared the Irish might be right in their demands for a united Ireland with abolition of the separate government for the north.

Police said the new anti-I.R.A. bill gives police broad search powers and provides for deportation of undesirable. In asking for its passage, Sir Samuel asserted I.R.A. terrorism apparently was inspired by foreign organizations and timed to coincide with international crisis. "Plan S" listed vulnerable points for sabotage.

Authorities have said some 5,000 suspected I.R.A. members or sympathizers are under watch. "Root them out!" demanded the Daily Mail.

British United Press says Prime Minister De Valera was pressed in the Eire senate for a statement denouncing the Irish Republican Army for terrorist acts in England. He said:

"Unfortunately the government of Eire is not in a position to remove the cause of the trouble, the unfortunate occurrences in England. We see two sides. We know the wrong that had been done by the partition of Ireland."

Aircraft Factory For Coast

Will Be Constructed Near Victoria And Employ 200 Men.

Victoria.—M. E. Heiser, of London, England, announced Helicoid Aircraft of Canada will construct a factory near Victoria to employ 200 men for mass production of bi-planes. Mr. Heiser said the plant would be producing 20 planes a day under a new plastic method within six months for distribution in the United States, Great Britain and Canada. A training school will be operated in connection with the factory, he said, to instruct men in engineering, draftsmanship, drawing and all phases of airplane and engine construction.

"It will give an opportunity," Mr. Heiser explained, "for experts in Canadian plane building in the future to be Canadian youths."

The school would also enable the company to absorb a staff of 1,000 or more workers if necessary.

Four radio broadcasting stations that are being erected in Manchuria will bring the total number to 15.

THE PROGRESS OF UNITY

Gradually but surely the movement calculated to unify forces opposed to the Social Credit government of Alberta is solidifying. By the time the election is held, Mr. Aberhart and his cohorts will face a substantial united front, calculated to furnish effective resistance to the effort to secure a second term for the present government. By a compromise the Unity Council and the Liberal party have decided to support independent candidates and organization is proceeding apace in many constituencies. The C.C.F. has joined in this movement and will run its own candidates. This will probably do more harm to Premier Aberhart's chances of re-election than if the C.C.F. had actually joined in the unity movement. Social Credit gained its greatest strength from the C.C.F. ranks, and many who voted for Aberhart will go back to their own party.

Premier Aberhart has no platform of grandiose promises or proposals with which to lure the electorate for a second time. His original plank of $25 a month for every bona fide adult resident has been split up for kindling. His promises of lowered taxation, lessened expenditures of public funds, and the maintenance of Alberta's credit, have all evaporated into thin air. People still remember how he assured them that he would bring about the millennium in eighteen months or quit. He said, further, that he would put a recall law on the statute books, enabling the electorate to dethrone the government if it did not live up to its promises. The law which was passed made it all but impossible for a recall to be effective—in his own riding of Okotoks-High River—the move was vitiated by a sudden "recall of the recall."

Just what reasons any person other than a fanatic can assemble for voting for a return of Aberhartism are hard to imagine. The premier and his government have been an incubus on Alberta for four years. It is high time the whole outfit was cast into outer darkness.—Hanna Herald.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER

The teacher had a very troublesome boy in his class. One day, having committed an offense, the boy was scolded by the teacher. "You young scamp!" he railed. "You're a disgrace to the whole school; in fact, you're not fit to be in decent society. Go to the principal's room at once!"

Jerry wants to bet that Premier Aberhart will not visit "every" part of Alberta on his speaking tour. Okotoks-High River feel likewise about it.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, Canadian minister of finance, has been obliged through failing health to resign, and leaves this week end for the Old Country, complete rest having been prescribed by his doctors.

The remains of the late Harry Antel were laid to rest at Coleman on Sunday afternoon, following service conducted at the home of his brother, William Antel, by Rev. Axton, rural dean of Christ church, Macleod. Grave service of the Elks were held by Bro. Founds, acting chaplain. Funeral arrangements were in charge of A. E. Ferguson of the Crows' Nest Funeral Home.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

CAMERAS BY LAKE OR OCEAN

Enlarged from portion of negative taken with a folding camera giving post-card size pictures. Exposure 1/100 second at f.11 on superensitive film.

COMES the time every year when many of us make for the lake or seashore for cool breezes, swimming, sailing, motorboating, fishing, and the many other pleasures that go with a sojourn by the water.

Any one can enjoy this fun without a camera, but verily to go and return without having made a picture-story of your visit seems as useless as trying to write a book about it with water for ink. When you have finished, your memory may retain some of it for a time, but eventually you remember little else than the fact that you went there. Years later you will say, "Yes, I had a good time that summer," but what did you do, whom were you with, what did you see? Bet a million that with nothing in your snapshot album to show for it, you will remember scarcely anything of the details of that good time, and regretfully wish you could.

Another reason for taking your camera to the lake or seashore is

If Premier Aberhart really believes it is so easy to provide dividends for everyone, why not make a small effort to provide employment for the few unemployed? The average man would feel happier to know that what he has he has earned.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Vaughn leave by auto tomorrow for Wolfville, Nova Scotia. Mr. Vaughn recently resigned his position in this territory with the Western Grocers Limited, taking effect July 31st. He is succeeded here by Mr. Karp.

In the Aberhart-Manning speaking tour of Southern Alberta, no mention was made of Okotoks - High River. Should not the people of this province as a whole just ask why?—and a big WHY?

Anticipating a visit of Aberhart to this district, sections of the highway had to be widened slightly to permit the passage of himself and his new bible. All hell must have been punched out of the smaller one.

J. A. and Mrs. McDonald, of Coleman, had with them as guest over the week end Rev. Father A. J. McDonald, their nephew, of Hamilton, Ontario. On Monday last they made a trip over the Logan Pass highway.

"ROCKY MOUNTAIN DICK"

COUNTS UP OLD TIMERS

Just 41 years ago today steel on the Crows' Nest Pass railroad was laid into Cranbrook, with Hughie Brock as locomotive engineer on the track-laying outfit. The event is recalled by R. C. McClure (Rocky Mountain Dick), who brought into The Courier office a list of five names of men who were on the construction work at that time and are still here. They are:

Hugh Brock, engineer; "Fred" Genest, brakeman; Joe Belanger, brakeman; Dave Speers, steamshovel man, and "Rocky Mountain Dick," cook for construction gang.

In a reminiscent mood, Dick also vouchsafed the information that there are still in the district only five who were living at Moyle when the track-layers went through there along about the middle of August. They are: Tim Farrelly; Miss Mamie Farrelly, Mrs. P. Conrad, R. A. Smith and F. J. Smyth.—Cranbrook Courier.

Alek Selekin, mayor of Lundbreck, was in town on Wednesday.

Wally Signumson and Johnny Drummond, formerly of the Red Lake Devils, Manitoba, have signed on with the Coleman Canadians for the forthcoming hockey season, the former as defenceman and the latter right winger.

T. J. (Tommy) Williams returned the early part of the week from Calgary, where he had been taking medical treatment for some time, and reports his condition much improved. He was accompanied back by his daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Floyd, Hottle and Elvira.

THE WORLD'S FASTEST CAR (?)

Its wheels going round at the rate of 46 times a second, the car which John Cobb hopes will achieve 360 miles per hour rate on the salt flats of Utah in August would take less than three days to cover a distance equal to the circumference of the earth at the equator.

Strong points about the all-British Ralston are: its petrol consumption is just over one mile to the gallon; although it weighs more than three tons, it is so shaped that the head-on resistance at 300 m.p.h. is the same as at 60 m.p.h. for the ordinary car; every minute it eats up enough energy to lift a heavy express train clear of the ground; at full speed the tires are one inch larger in diameter than at rest; every minute there are 30,000 gas explosions in the 24 cylinders of the two Napier engines; the gases in the pipes from the carburetors to the cylinders are sucked through at more than three inches a minute; the wheels go round 46 times a second; in about a minute the tires' temperature goes up to the boiling point of water, and tends to fly apart with a force of about twelve tons.

If John Cobb succeeds, he will be the first man to travel on land at six miles a minute.

NEW WEALTH FOR MAMMON

Yellowknife, July 31.—Believed to be one of the richest gold fields in the Yellowknife area, and perhaps the most promising in Canada, a strike was made about twenty miles east of here by Peter Lauder and Davidson. Surface assays are running from $2,000 to $3,000 per ton of ore.

Surface showings range from three to twenty feet in width over a known distance of three miles. More discoveries in the area are being reported daily.

Of course this bank makes Personal Loans

When financial problems arise through sickness, unforeseen emergencies and similar causes, a personal loan with the bank often presents an immediate and sensible solution. Such a loan, well within the borrower's ability to repay, may also be used on occasion to consolidate a number of small bothersome debts, to the borrower's greater peace of mind. Your local manager welcomes enquiries from responsible men and women, able to repay out of income—in convenient monthly instalments if necessary—and will be glad to explain the terms and conditions under which these loans are made.

NEWS FROM EDMONTON

(T. D. Windsor)

Edmonton, July 31.—Political co-operation among party groups opposed to the Aberhart government, among citizens of independent thought who believe that a competent administration is needed in the legislative buildings without the hindrance of party lines in provincial affairs, has spread far and wide over Alberta as this week opened.

A citizens' slate, made up of Liberal, Conservative and Unity nominees, was formed in Edmonton last week, with Labor representatives still to be added and with only the C.C.F. in addition to Social Credit remaining aloof so far. J. Percy Page, world famous as coach of the Edmonton Grads basketball team, was among the candidates named on the co-operative slate. So were Gerald O'Connor, present Liberal M.L.A., and D. M. Duggan, provincial Conservative leader. In Calgary, meantime, it was announced that a "People's slate" is to be formed in the same way.

In the meantime, Provincial Treasurer Solon Low in a speech at Milk River indicated an election "in the very near future" and said that Premier Aberhart will visit every part of Alberta soon in the campaign.

Finding that the Eastern Irrigation District, in southern Alberta, "has been managed remarkably well since it was put under local management," and that Mr. E. L. Grey's "energy and driving force did much to bring the district to the place where it is today," Judge J. A. Jackson handed his 58-page report on the public inquiry to the government last week.

The report states that "nothing was found in the evidence that would indicate the board and manager, or either of them, had any improper motives or were guilty of any intentional wrong." "The motives were good," the report states, "but the methods often used are subject to criticism."

Judge Jackson says that while there were irregularities, the seriousness of them was "fogged down by the honesty of those in charge."

In summarizing the evidence taken at the inquiry, the report reveals that under the management of Mr. E. L. Gray and the board of trustees since the Canadian Pacific surrendered its claim in the district, an operating loss of about $350,000 annually had been turned into an operating profit of $67,000, or, as the report puts it: "They have changed a loss of $350,000 a year to an average surplus of about $17,000 over a period of four years. It is also shown that the irrigation cost to the farmers in the project has been reduced from $5.00 to $1.38, and the number of settlers has been increased from 598 under C.P.R. management in 1935 to over one thousand at present."

Judge Jackson points out that in using the words "irregularity" or "irregularities," he does so in "the broadest sense," and declares "if it were restricted to dishonesty or bad faith," the inquiry would have been futile, as no allegations of graft, theft or personal dishonesty were made.

The irregularities named by the commissioner are all related to incidents where financial assistance was given by the board and manager to industries within the district, subsidiary to the E.I.D., but which were not strictly connected with the work of irrigation. In other words, they were instances where authority under the statute were over-stopped. But Judge Jackson points out that these irregularities were beneficial to the district and the settlers.

The report states the irregularities were "not in defiance of the law," and in each case "the good of the district was the main consideration."

Among the recommendations contained in the report is one that the powers of the board be fixed more definitely as to the financial assistance that is to be given to others, "especially industries not directly connected with the operations of an irrigation district."

Judge Jackson says the inquiry was justified, because it cleared "the board and manager and his staff of

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Pictures in the Looking-Glass

"Two-in-one" pictures can be snapped with the aid of a mirror. Note that the light comes from the left onto faces of the children. In mirror pictures the light must be in front of the camera, but it must also be shaded so as not to shine on the lens.

SNAPPING back and front views of a subject in one picture is a novel idea, but it is one of the simplest tricks in photography. All one needs is a mirror.

The subject sits or stands either in front of the mirror or barely to one side, looking into the glass. The person taking the picture stands back at a point where the camera lens shows both the back of the subject and the reflection in the mirror—and snaps the picture.

It is necessary, of course, to have sufficient light, either daylight or artificial. The light should come from one side, and fall upon the subject instead of on the mirror. Strong light such as from an electric bulb should not be allowed to strike the camera lens, as it will spoil the picture.

The artificial light to use for snapshots is that from amateur floodlight bulbs, but ordinary electric bulbs will serve for time exposures. With an ordinary 100-watt bulb and a box camera, loaded with supersensitive film and opened to its largest lens opening, an exposure of five seconds will usually serve when the bulb is three feet from the subject. Snapshots call for two of the large-sized amateur flood bulbs in reflectors. An ordinary 100-watt bulb and a box camera, loaded with supersensitive film and opened to its largest lens opening, an exposure of five seconds will usually serve when the bulb is three feet from the subject. Most amateurs prefer the snapshot method because it does not require the subject to remain still so long. When a time exposure is made the camera must be rested on a table or other firm stand.

The subject in a mirror picture should not stand too far from the mirror, because that will make the reflection too far away and too small. Also, it may bring the subject too close to the camera that he is out of focus. With a fixed-focus camera which is not meant for use closer than six feet, the subject's back should be six feet from the lens when the picture is made.

When using a focusing camera, remember that the reflection lies beyond the surface of the mirror. For instance, if the subject is three feet in front of the mirror, the reflection is three feet on the other side of the mirror. Hence, with the camera six feet from the mirror, the worker would focus at nine feet. Or, to get everything sharp, he could focus for six feet and use a very small lens opening which gives more "depth of focus."

If one has access to a dressing-table with a triple mirror, he can make four pictures in one—a back view of the subject, a full-face view, and two profiles. The two profiles are obtained by adjusting the side wings of the mirror to the proper reflecting angle.

APPROPRIATE

The two ex-army men were discussing their respective occupations since their retirement from the forces.

"I've done fairly well; I've not long since started a pig farm," said one.

"Ah," said the other, "then I can suggest a good motto for your business."

"And what might it be?" queried the other.

"Well, as an ex-army man keeping pigs, why not have 'The pen is mightier than the sword'?"

In the interest of the Wheat Board and the government, the matter may be considered advertising matter, hence we are not throwing away our money to advertise it.

Miss Penelope McDonald has returned to her duties as nurse at the Carleton hospital, after a holiday visit with her parents at Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDonald. Some folks in Coleman had an idea that Penelope's visit to her home was occasioned by her father's recent trouble with the Gaelic language; but such was not the case. "Jack," however, was wearing a towel around his neck on Tuesday afternoon.

Up to time of going to press, no official announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Sarah McVey, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. McVey, of Blairmore, to Mr. Jack Oakes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oakes, also of Blairmore, which we understand took place at Macleod on Saturday night last. Anyway, the bride and groom have returned from their honeymoon, and have taken up residence in West Blairmore. Congratulations aplenty!

"Goodness, Sarah, what a kitchen!" exclaimed Mrs. Hinks. "Every pot, pan and dish is dirty; the table is a perfect litter and—why, it will take you all night to clear things up. What have you been doing?"

"Nothing, ma'am," exclaimed Sarah. "Your daughter has just been showing me how they boil a potato at her cookery school."

ALBERTA ORDERS

TRAILER LICENSE

Alberta is one of the first provinces to take steps to impose a license fee on trailers, according to information received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Announcement by the government that this new license fee is being imposed it to be considered by motor club officials.

The regulations, which are being administered by the provincial highway traffic board, provide for a fee of $2.50 on a two-wheel and $5 on a four-wheel trailer.

There are no exemptions, so far as trailers attached to a motor vehicle and operated for personal use are concerned. No matter whether it is a trailer to a passenger car or to a farmer's truck, the new license is required.

In some quarters it is suggested that the results of the license will be to keep many trailers off the highways. It is contended that some of the trailers are a menace to traffic and that a license fee will have the effect of making them safer or reducing their number.

The regulations also provide for a proper chain for attaching the trailer to the car.

Officials of the traffic board stated that the purpose of the new regulation is to bring the trailers under control and ascertain the number operated in Alberta.

On Road To Fame

Edmonton Man Left Basking To Study Art

Llewellyn Peltz Jones, who left a banking job in Edmonton to study art, received wide acclaim for a recent London exhibition of his work. Mr. Jones has a permanent studio in London and critics say he is on the road to fame. One London newspaper, the Daily Telegraph, even compared him with Paul Cezanne, famous French painter who also turned down a career in banking to study art. "Now his fellow students call him the Canadian Cezanne," the paper's art critic wrote.

A prominent English art house conducted a 17-day exhibition of Mr. Jones' work in the London galleries June 6 to 23. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Canadian prime minister, opened the review. Eighty pictures were on display, mostly of French interest. Mr. Jones studied in Paris for three years.

The painter's proud mother, Mrs. A. H. Jones, resides in the 17th avenue home in Edmonton where her son spent his childhood. He was a student at Edmonton public high schools and after graduation went to a branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Three years later he quit to open a studio. His paintings in Edmonton exhibitions attracted wide interest and in 1935 he decided to study abroad.

After six months in England the Royal Academy of London chose his painting of Seba Beach, Edmonton, out of 10,000. The picture went on view through the British Isles and France.

The following years brought recognition from the Royal Society of British Artists, the Royal Society of Portrait Painters, the Société Nationale de Beaux Arts and other famous art associations. His best-known pictures are Linehouse, Wenonah, Winter in Richmond and Autumn on the Seine. Some of his work hangs in the National gallery in Ottawa.

Not Very Profitable

It doesn't always pay to appeal. There is Dr. F. S. Rutland, medical health officer of Woodstock, Ont., who, getting $1,200 a year, was offered $1,500 but refused, demanding $1,600, just before a county judge had been awarded $1,350.

Canada's Currency

Fifty-Four Million New Bills Issued By Bank Of Canada Last Year

Last year about 54,000,000 new bills were issued to the public by the Bank of Canada, and more than 210,000,000 have been issued since the smaller sized bank bills came into use in 1935, according to the Dominion bureau of statistics.

That gives some idea of the number of bills required to satisfy the commercial needs of a country of over 11,000,000 population.

These bills range in value as follows: $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $500 and $1,000. The authorities keep close track of the hands into which the $1,000 bills fall. It is the highest denomination issued.

There is practically no gold currency in Canada to-day and the silver dollar is comparatively rarely used. As a matter of fact Canada's monetary system has fewer units in it than formerly. A $4 bill used to give a lot of trouble for countersellers were able to cheat the public sometimes by raising a $1 bill to a $4, so it was discontinued.

Canada used to have more silver coinage also. There was a 20-cent piece which created confusion occasionally. Silver dollars, or "cart wheels" as they were called, were used regularly.

A popular bill in years past was the 25-cent denomination. We call them "thin plasters" and know them by that name. They were handy for mailing and quite frequently even a "thin plaster" will come in a letter for some payment.

A Courageous Woman

Madame Pierre Casgrain Protests Against Some Quebec Laws

There is no more progressive-minded woman amongst the French-Canadians than Madame Pierre Casgrain, wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons and daughter of the late Sir Rodolphe Forget. Not long ago she was brought into prominence when she was elected a director of a chain store corporation. But it is not in business that she is known. She is an outspoken and courageous advocate of women's rights in the province of Quebec. Quebec is without the franchise for women in provincial affairs and it is backward in other respects so far as women are concerned. Mrs. Casgrain's voice is constantly being heard in protest. Only recently in speaking at a meeting of women's clubs she made some caustic references to Quebec laws. She cited as instances permitting a boy of 14 and a girl of 12 to marry, but forbidding them to attend motion picture shows until they are 16.

"A spinster of 21 has the political status as a man, but she loses it when she marries," Madame Casgrain added—Lethbridge Herald.

Egg-Shaped Concert Hall

Acoustical Effects In Liverpool's New Building Are Perfect

A concert hall shaped like an egg to provide perfect acoustical effects for music, speech and even sound films, has been opened in Liverpool by the Liverpool Philharmonic Society to replace the old Philharmonic Hall, which burned in 1933. The equipment includes an electric concert organ. The hall, which seats about 2,000 persons, cost over $500,000, which does not seem excessive. The English know how to do things without being wasteful.

Road To North

Manitoba Has A New Highway South Of 53

Another mighty northern wilderness became the property of the North American tourist with the opening of Manitoba's first highway "north of 53."

The new highway, an extension of No. 10 running north from Brandon through the popular Riding Mountain national park resort to Dauphin and Swan River, opens the thriving lumber and mining center of The Pas.

It was an historic occasion for the northern town, two hundred years ago a Hudson's Bay Co. trading post, when engineers completed the last leg of the hundred-mile road that they carved out of a wilderness of lakes and streams, mountains and timber lands.

The time is looked forward to when the highway will be extended still further to reach Manitoba's gold mining town of Flin Flon, for centuries the most isolated north country.

The provincial government now is understood to be considering the making of a new through highway from the United States boundary northward through Brandon to The Pas to simplify tourist travel over the recently opened north country.

At Brandon the northward highway would cross the trans-Canada highway, now being hard-surfaced, thus making connections with Winnipeg and other western Canada centres complete.

Car Of The Future

Will Be Vastly Different From Type Used To-day

From the World Automotive Engineering Congress comes prediction that the car of the future will be tear-drop in form... not for the sorrow it causes, but for speed. It will bulge big at the front and taper to a tail at the rear. It seems that our cars nowadays are built wrong and first in shape.

The car of to-morrow will be either "a front drive engine in front" or "a rear-drive engine in the rear." Figures it out.

It will be a buttoned-up affair. Door handles will disappear and give place to buttons for entrance into a commodious room with light, movable seats. The roof will be translucent to let in the light, yet kill the glare. More buttons. A button will regulate the temperature, another button condition the air, another cause a concealed bed to jump out at you. The car can be driven from any seat; the controls may be passed from one place to place, something like the remote control of the modern radio.

British Shipyards Busy

Other Nations Know Where Best Ships Are Built

John Bull builds the best ships in the world and other nations know it. Even at the present time, says the Brookville Recorder and Times, when various British yards are busy on orders for naval account, the shipbuilding industry is able to say that it is working on fully 40 vessels of various types for foreign countries. They include destroyers, submarines, minelayers, cargo motorships, motor tankers, colliers, trawlers, whalers, tugs, dredgers and motor torpedo boats.

Clyde yards are building two motor tankers of 15,000 tons deadweight each for Continental owners, two destroyers for Turkey, and five destroyers, three for the Soviet government and one for Greece. In the Clyde, elsewhere in Scotland work is proceeding on a tanker of 12,600 tons deadweight for Scandinavian account and a trawler for France.

In England, the northeast coast is the busiest district so far as foreign contracts are concerned, the yards there having nine orders in hand. Seven of these vessels—four whalers, two motor tankers and a cargo motorship—are for Norway, the other two being a steam collier for France and a cargo motorship for Greece.

Other shipyards in England are engaged upon six destroyers for Brazil, two destroyers, four submarines and two minelayers for Turkey, a salvage tug for Sweden, a fire-fighter for Persia, and a number of fast motor torpedo boats for various foreign governments.

British shipyards have had their difficulties but the recognized quality of their output is now responsible for a marked revival of the industry.

A Strange Hobby

When George Blinworth, not George VI's consort, but the daughter of Henry VIII, died she was certainly well heeled, leaving behind her 7,000 pairs of shoes, the collecting of which she had a mania for, says Neal O'Hara, in the New York Post.

Goering demands a 50 per cent. rise in Germany's output of wood. Trees must grow faster from now on or the Fuhrer will be furious.

When the water in a new electric tea kettle becomes low the kettle lifts itself backward and shuts off the current.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST 6

ELIJAH: A LIFE OF COURAGE

Golden text: The Lord is far from the wicked; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. Proverbs 15: 29.

Lesson: 1 Kings 18:1-46.

Devotional reading: Ephesians 6: 10-20.

Explanations And Comments

Elijah Meeting with Ahab, 1 Kings 18:1-20. After three years of severe famine in Samaria, because of the drought Ahab called Obadiah, his superintendent, and told him to go in search of water for their perishing horses and mules. He was met by Elijah, who ordered him to inform Ahab that rain was coming. Ahab came to meet Elijah. "Thou troubler of Israel!" were the king's angry words of greeting. Boldly Elijah retorted that the king was the real troubler of the nation, for he had forsaken the commandments of the Lord and had followed the gods of Jezebel. Then Elijah ordered Ahab to assemble on Mount Carmel all the priests of Baal and of the Asherah, and Ahab did his bidding.

ELIJAH FLIPS OUT HIS CHALLENGE, 1 Kings 18:21-24. To the people assembled on Mount Carmel Elijah said: "How long go ye limping between the two sides? I am the only prophet of God left, and there are four hundred and fifty prophets of Baal. We will have a test. Let two bullocks be brought, and let the priests of Baal prepare one for sacrifice and I will prepare the other; then call on your god and I will call on Jehovah, and the God that answers by fire, let him be God." The people approved.

THE VAIN EFFORTS OF THE PRIESTS OF BAAL, 1 Kings 18:25-29. They prepared their sacrifice, and from morning till noon they cried: "O Baal, hear us," and leaped about the altar, but there was no response. Dancin' acrobats, "voodoo" and bodily contortions was customary at heathen sacrifices. At noon Elijah mocked them: "Cry aloud, perhaps your god is meditating, or has gone on a journey, or is asleep."

THE KING TRIES THE TEST, 1 Kings 18:38, 39. The fire of Jehovah fell, and consumed offering, wood, stones, dust and water.

Great Pianist Was Kindly

Paderewski Remembered People Who Helped Him To Succeed

The New York Times tell this story of the great pianist's struggles. One day a certain well known altruistic family of Chicago sponsored his concert and he became a frequent guest in their home. Years later, when the great Polish pianist had come to New York, he remembered the hospitality of his Chicago friends.

Learning that his sometime hostess, who was by that time 82 years of age, was spending the winter in Florida and was a place not far from where he was to give one of his concerts, he arrived at her home to her surprise shortly after the concert.

When told that she had "listened in" by radio, Paderewski said that he had come to play the concert for her. At the visit is described by her: "He went into the drawing room, opened the French windows upon the terrace and played the entire concert" for this friend of his early days—another instance of the chivalry of a musician who has evoked a symphony of praise more wonderful even than his skill has played.

Caring For Indians

Tons Of Medical And Surgical Supplies Sent To Northwest

By canoe, aeroplane and packhorse, Indians in Canada's northland have been shipped more than 16 tons of medical and surgical supplies during this spring and early summer. These are hospitals at Ile a la Crosse in the Mackenzie River basin, at Moose Factory and Fort Albany on James Bay, but over most of that vast area Indian medical needs are served by missionaries, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, traders and nurses maintained by the government and the churches.

From the Yukon to Labrador, the health of 18,000 Indians is looked after by the Dominion government.

TEACH CHILDREN HOW TO SAVE LIVES

A timely article in "Health," official publication of the Health League of Canada, which has been campaigning for a wider knowledge of artificial respiration methods, is contributed by Willis MacLachlan, of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission. In this article he says:

"The Schafer method of artificial respiration is sometimes known by someone about watering places and bathing beaches. It is of all methods the most satisfactory. It is so simple that it should be familiar to everyone. It is recommended that senior pupils in the schools, both boys and girls, should be taught to practice it. Knowledge of the kind will sooner or later prove to be a life saver. Employees of public utilities practice it regularly at least once a month. It may be successful even when there has been no perceptible pulse, or other signs of life, for several minutes. After the patient has started to breathe, it will be necessary to transport him in a lying position to his home or to a hospital so that he may be put to bed. He must not be allowed to sit up, stand or walk. He must be transported in a lying down position. Experience has taught that under such circumstances the heart is in no condition to stand the strain of sitting up and that in the past, lives have been lost where the persons have been allowed to stand or walk. In bed, the patient should be treated as for surgical shock—that is, by the use of warmth, quiet and the necessary stimulants.

To summarize:

1. Remove the victim from electrical contact, gas or water, as quickly as possible.
2. Start artificial respiration by well-trained persons, as promptly as possible.
3. Give warmth. Hot water bottles, blankets, etc.
4. Do not stop artificial respiration until the patient breathes or there are definite signs of rigor mortis.

"Transport the patient in a lying position to home or hospital and put to bed.
"To word to word let me repeat that in cases of electrical shock, gas poisoning and apparent drowning, artificial respiration by means of the Schafer method, and all methods of stimulants and rest. Diligently and persistently carried out, it will save the lives of many persons which otherwise would be lost. The method should be learned by everyone. Knowledge of it will save many lives."

By just thinking of liquor prices in Alberta, farmers should be able to decide as to just what extent Aberhart will reduce prices of implement parts or anything else—including taxation. Yes, he has the interest and welfare of the poor farmers at heart, we don't think!

The Alberta government telephones have often complained over never being able to report a surplus or profit. This week, as an instance of how that department throws away money, we received two bills mailed from Lethbridge in open envelopes, each carrying a three-cent stamp. And we have been shown others. A one-cent stamp could carry them.

J. E. McLeod and family, of Olds, and W. Diemer and family, of Youngstown, passed through Blairmore over the week end enroute to holiday at the Pacific coast. He is at present secretary-treasurer of the municipal district of Olds. Staying overnight in Blairmore, they took occasion to look up a number of old friends.

About fifteen tons of the 1939 strawberry crop at Wynndel has been processed to be marketed in the Old Country. The berries are put up in barrels holding about 260 pounds of fruit. In processing, no sugar is used. The barrel is filled nearly to the top and some preserving gas from tanks is forced into the barrel and the lid becomes sealed tight. The fruit thus processed is said to keep for many months, and when opened retains its fresh fruit flavor.

A considerable number of adult beaver from the south are to be captured and shipped to the points in the northern part of the province where they are considered more necessary. These are being taken only from places where their operations are found to be damaging private properties.
